Celayix Takes the Guesswork out of Workforce Scheduling & Collaboration

Overview

Celayix Solutions

Whether your organization requires Rules-Based Scheduling software, Collaborative Scheduling tools, or employee Self Scheduling workflows, Celayix provides Scheduling Solutions to fit any environment or industry.

Benefits

Our Advanced Scheduling Solutions will help you to manage your workforce more effectively and efficiently. They will:

A. Cut labor costs by eliminating avoidable overtime, streamlining management processes, and creating the most cost efficient workforce deployments.

B. Improve employee satisfaction by increasing their involvement in the management process, creating better access to important scheduling data, and reducing unnecessary communication time.

C. Improve customer satisfaction by ensuring properly qualified staff are in the right place at the right time to better serve them.

Specific Solutions

Rules-Based Scheduling

Our sophisticated yet easy-to-use Advanced Rules-Based Scheduling Solution, Celayix eTime Xpress, simplifies and automates workforce scheduling even in the most complex environments. With its comprehensive suite of tools and features at your disposal, eTime Xpress will plan and schedule your workforce easily and quickly. By effortlessly optimizing your employees' schedules, you will reap the rewards of capturing money lost to avoidable overtime and other scheduling errors too complex for a simple spreadsheet or lesser software systems to handle.

Collaborative Scheduling

In addition to eTime Xpress, Celayix offers you even more efficiencies through its Collaborative Employee Communication tools. Its telephone-based system, Voice Xpress, and web-based system, Web Xpress, take your workforce management process one step further by tying employees directly into the system. Employees indirectly help you build, confirm, and optimize their schedules through automated processes such as availability submission, time-off requests, shift confirmations, and personal information management.

Self Scheduling

Celayix is leading the Workforce Management Software industry with its revolutionary Self-Scheduling capabilities. Go beyond employee collaboration with direct employee participation and explore the limits of your workforce management potential. By enabling your employees to schedule themselves directly into the system (with our software maintaining whatever business rules you require in the background) we guarantee drastic improvements for your bottom line. Choosing this unique Self Scheduling System means you will not only be using the most efficient scheduling solution on the market, but also creating a more positive environment for your workforce.
